What's inside

1. Getting started — what this portal is, and who uses it
2. How to log in — signing in step by step
3. Finding your way around — the menu, your name card, language & sign-out
4. The Student view — marks, attendance, progress
5. The Parent view — your children at a glance
6. The Teacher view — your class and your subjects
7. The Principal view — the whole school at a glance
8. The Office / Admin view — running the school
9. Everyday tasks — attendance, marks, progress, reports, announcements, calendar, leave
10. Good to know — common questions

IN ONE LINE

This portal keeps every student's marks, attendance and progress in one place — and shows each person exactly what they need, nothing more.

1 Getting started

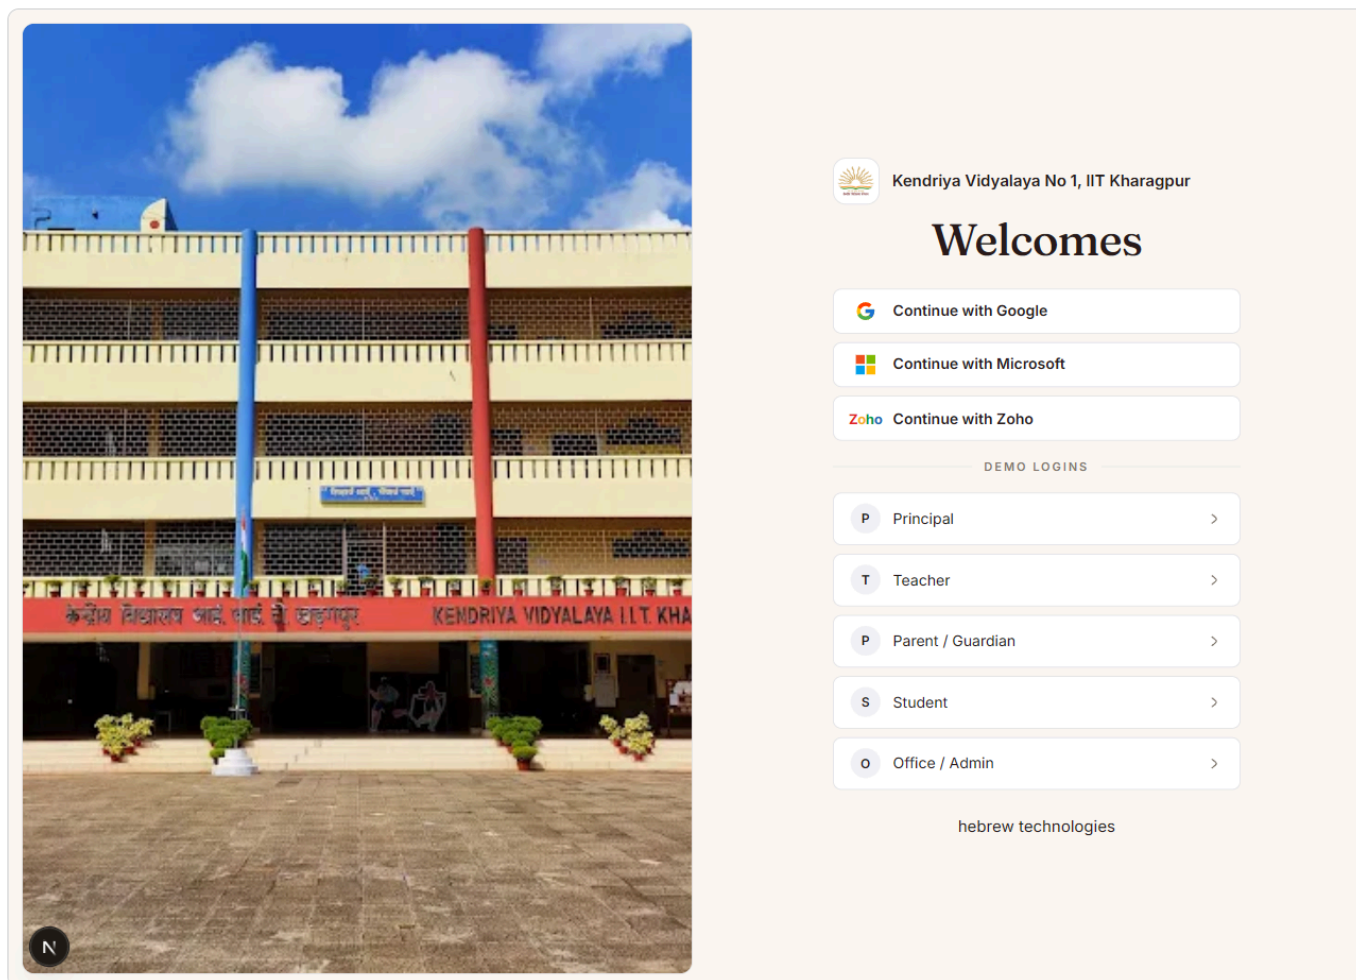

The portal is a single website that the whole school shares. What you see depends on who you are. You never have to set anything up — you just sign in, and the right screen opens for you.

If you are a...	You can...
Student	See your own marks, attendance and progress, read announcements, check the calendar, and give a reason for any absence.
Parent / Guardian	See each of your children in one place, open their detailed progress, and explain their absences.
Teacher	Mark attendance for your class, enter and release marks, and view the progress of your class and subjects.
Principal	See the whole school — averages, attendance, and which students need support — without editing marks.
Office / Admin	Manage the school — students, teacher assignments, marks, reports, and moving students to the next class.

THE GOLDEN RULE

You can only ever see and change what belongs to you. A subject teacher sees their subjects; a class teacher sees their whole class; a parent sees only their own children. This keeps everyone's data private and safe.

2 How to log in

The sign-in screen

- Open the portal in any web browser on a phone, tablet or computer.
- On the right you'll see three ways to sign in — Google, Microsoft and Zoho. Tap the one your school gave you an account with.
- Under “Demo logins” there are ready-made accounts (Principal, Teacher, Parent, Student, Office). Tapping one signs you straight in — handy for trying things out or for a demonstration.
- Once you sign in, your own dashboard opens automatically. You will not see anyone else's private information.

ON A PHONE

The picture on the left is hidden on small screens so the sign-in options fill the whole screen. Everything still works exactly the same.

3 Finding your way around

Every screen shares the same simple layout, so once you learn it once, you know it everywhere.

- The menu (left side): your links — Dashboard, Attendance, Marks, Progress, Announcements, Calendar, Reports and more. On a phone, tap the ☰ button at the top to open the menu.
- Your name card (top-right of the dashboard): shows your name and role. Tap it to sign out — a confirmation box appears so you never sign out by accident.
- Language: parents can switch between English, Hindi and Bengali using the language box next to the name card.
- Coloured icons mark each section so it's easy to spot the one you want.

TIP

Anything that is a link will gently highlight when you move your pointer over it (or tap it). If it highlights, you can open it.

A student's home screen

- Your name and class card sits at the top-right, with your roll number, class-section and class teacher.
- Quick links take you straight to your Progress, Attendance, Announcements and Calendar.
- Announcements and Events keep you up to date with school notices and important dates.

Seeing your progress

Your subject-wise progress over time

- See your average and how each subject is going, exam by exam.
- Use the session picker at the top to look at this year, an earlier year, or your whole history in one view.
- Only released results appear — a teacher chooses when marks become visible.

Save marks

Entering marks for an exam

- Pick the section, subject and exam, then type each student's marks (or mark them absent).
- Marks stay a Draft (hidden from parents) until you press the black Release results button.
- Need a new exam column? Use New exam — it appears for every section of the class.

The whole school at a glance

- The top cards show total students, the overall average, attendance %, and how many students are falling behind.
- Every card is clickable — tap one to jump to its detail (for example, tap “Falling behind” to see the students who need support).
- A class-by-class chart shows how each class is performing.
- The principal can view everything but does not enter marks — that's done by teachers and the office.

Reason for absence

Give reason for 0 day(s)

Explaining an absence

- Students and parents can apply for leave and give a reason for any day marked absent.
- Class teachers can review and approve these requests.

10 Good to know

- Why can't I see my marks yet? Results appear only after the teacher releases them. Until then they're a private draft.
- Why do I see different screens than my friend? The portal shows each role only what it needs — a student, parent, teacher and principal each see a different home screen.
- Does it work on my phone? Yes. The whole portal adjusts to phones and tablets; the menu tucks behind the ☰ button.
- How do I change the language? Parents can switch between English, Hindi and Bengali from the language box near their name.
- How do I sign out? Tap your name card on the dashboard and confirm.
